POWERS' BUNGLING

In the Greco-Turkish Trouble an "Incredible Shame."

HEATED COMMENTS IN LONDON

And Gladstone's Expressions Added Puel -Money to Abl Greeks Heing Contributed Through London Banks-Diplomats Believe the War will be Over in Three Weeks

(Copyright, 1897, by the Associated Press. LONDON, April 25.—The dominant note of everything in London is war. It is discussed eagerly by all classes, om cabinet ministers down to the riff raff of the East End, though all but the specialists are muddled as to the where abouts of most of the places named. In consequence there is such a demand for war maps that the publishers have been unable to supply it. The comments heard show a curious stae of affairs. The sympathy with the combutants runs on party lines, the conservatives lauding the Turks and the liberals hopwhere one would expect universal sympaths for Greece, there is an amazing amount of plaudits for Turkey, on the round that the Turks are such good fighters.

The comments on the war are becoming more or less heated. Two letters from Mr. Gladstone since Monday have added fuel to the fire. He says that the lar powers "with the incombutable maladroitness which has distinguished them throughout, have said, in acts, to the Greeks: "You shann't carry on your work in Crete. We will do the war work of the Turks, there." It is thus they have driven the Greeks into Macconia, It is an incredible shame that the incomparable bungling of the powers, and sacrifices of honor, decency and humanity in order to preserve peace, have caused war." ne war has opened wide the purs

The war has opened wide the purses of the Greeks abroad, and quantities of drafts from $5 to $50 are coming from the United States and Camada, for the Greek defense fund. Probably close upon $5,000,000 have passed through London for Greece during the past three weeks. A prominent London banker said: "We only represent four United States and Camadian banks, from which these small drafts come; but if these represent anything like a fair proportion of the sums forwarded by other American banks which, we think, is undoubtedly the case, the total amount of money sent to Greece from America is already very close upon a million pounds sterling. Beside these American contributions, the Greek merchants of London are forwarding large subscriptions of money and material."

The Delly Chronicle and the Star have opened funds for the wounded and the amounts subscribed will be sent to the Crown Princess of Greece.

Regarding the course of the war, the Associated Press learns that the ambussadors of the powers in London believe the war will be over in three weeks and that when the Turks capture Larissa the sultan of Turkey will appeal to the prosecution of Count Muravieff to abstain from intervention until one of the beiligerents appeals for help, the Marquis of Salisbury being of the opinion that such an appeal will never be made, and that, in the meantime, circumstances may arise necessitating action

GREEK ENTHUSIASM

Wild for the Fight Throughout the King-dom-Garibaldt Brothers in Athens.

ATHENS, April 25.-The most Intens enthusiasm continues to prevail here. Poreign volunteers arrive daily in inasing numbers. Friday the Garibaldi brothers reached the city with more than 2,000 followers, eager to get to the front. Greeks, wild to fight, are pouring into the city from every foreign land. een Olga alone would keep the en-

Queen Olga alone would keep the en-thuslasm here at fever heat, if only by her visits to the hospitals, where she daily attends the wounded. The newspapers are printing special editions every hour. In them is express-ed the bitter feeling which pervades Greece against Germany, which country is blamed here for Turkey's declara-tion of war. The bitterness is enhanced by the appearance of several German military officers in the ranks of the en-ersy.

TURKISH INSOLENCE

Will be Increased by Victory in Greece Hoty War for Islam.

LONDON, April 25 .- The Constantino ple correspondent of the Speaker, who is a high authority on the subject, and is cognizant of the inside workings at the embassies, writing under date of April 19, says;

"If there is war to-day in Thessaly it is simply because the concert of Europe has taken sides with the Turks and has taken sides with the Turks and given the sultan to understand that he can have as free a hand in Greece as in Armenia. The sultan was not much inclined to take the chances of war, and it is believed here that Germany influenced him to take the final step. The other powers advised peace, but assured him that Europe would not intervene to all the Greeks. Even now the war might be stopped, but power honestly and heartly wished to stop this war.

war might be stopped, but power honestly and heartily wished to stop this war.

"Lord Salisbury preferred to let things drift, with the vague idea that this war would be better than nothing, and that something would come up to end the long and wearisome period of fruitless negotiations. He hoped, possibly, that the Turks might be beaten and the sultan frightened into submission, and that even if he was victorious he would come out of the war in a condition of helpless bankruptcy and too weak to resist the powers."

The correspondent adds: "The Turkish armies ought to be in Athens within a religious war. They are full of fanaticism and drunk with the blood of the Armenians. The idea that the sultan, even if he should be victorious, will come out of the war reader than now to abdicate his power comes comes from a mistaken view of his character and his polley. It does not follow from his fear of assassinglation and his apparent vaciliation in dealing with the ambassadors, that he is a weak man without a fixed polley. On the contrary, he is a very strong man, with the indomitable purpose to restore the power and glory of the Caliphate.

Already the feliahees, as well as the Pashas of Egypt, are contributing mo-ney for the war against the infidel, and Meca has appealed to India to come to the sultan's aid."

DINGLEY ON PROSPERITY.

Why Good Times Cannot Come with a Leap-All Party Fromties will be Made Good, but People Must be Considerate. Washington staff correspondent of Pitisburgh Dispatch: "I do not think it possible," said Chairman Dingley, "that any considerable number of the people of the United States have any such thought as that prosperity should already be re-established. Of course, the enemy is doing what it can to feer that idea, but it is so entirely unreasonable that I cannot believe anybody who gives the matter a moment's thought can suppose it justi-fiable. What has been done? To be name, what has been done? To be sure, they deposited their ballots in favor of the Republican party and its protec-tive theory in November, the Fresident whom they elected has been inaugurated, and one branch of Congress has passed of the Republican party and its protective theory in November, the President whom they elected has been inaugurated, and one branch of Congress has pursed the tariff bill. But that cannot possibly have any effect in the way of improving the situation, so far as relates to the manufacturing industries which would be effected by their improvement."

"Rather the reverse, would it not, Mr. Dingley." was asgrested.

"Momentarily, yes. The fact that a new tariff measure is pending, and that it proposes to increase the rates of duty on many articles, has the effect of temporarily unsettling the business operations of the manufacturers. Prices are based, of course, to a certain extent upon those named by foreign manufacturers who invade the market, and our own manufacturers are uncertain as to what they will themselves have to pay for such raw material as they will import for use in their manufacturing, after the new law goes into effect. In that particular at least the pendency of a new tariff law unsettles the business operations of the manufacturers in this country, and makes impossible of them to make contracts or push their business. The greatest injury to their business, however, lies in the fact that enormous quantities of foreign goods are being imported and forced upon the market.

"Of ourse I do not mean," continued Mr. Dingley, "that the moral effect of the election which insured the stability of our currency and assured the people that they are to have the protection which once gave them prosperity falled to have an immediate effect in some desree. I think it is generally conceded that business did improve since this assurance was given, but it is not reasonable to expect that the improvement resulting from increased manufacturers, and the consequently increased business for those affected by their activity, can be felt before the bill becomes a law, or even immediately afterward. Improvement in business adepression may occur in a day, but improvement never comes suddenly. Cer-

ately afterward, neas slowly. A buneas always comes slowly. A buneas always comes suddenly. depression may occur in a day, but im-provement never comes suddenly. Cer-tainly it cannot be expected that it will be so in this case, when it is remembered that practically a year's stock of goods will have been brought into the country from abroad before the tariff bill be-comes a law." mes a law."
"A year's stock, Mr. Dingley?"

"A year's stock, Mr. Dangley?"
"In many cases at least, yes. That may seem like a broad assertion, but very few people realize. I think, the enormous quantity of goods being now brough: in and which have come in in the past few months. The cursons receipts upon duiand which have come in in the past few months. The customs receipts upon dutiable goods alone have doubled, and if you will examine the reports of the importations of non-dutiable goods you will find that they have increased enormously. I observe by a paragraph in a recent number of a Boston paper that fourteen vessels laden with wool arrived in that city in one day last week. When you remember that the bill has yet to be considered by the full senate committee, by the senate where there is limited debate, and by a conference committee, it is apparent that weeks and probably months must ate where there is limited debate, and by a conference committee, it is apparent that weeks and probably months must yet elapse before it gets upon the statute books and into operation. I hope, however, to see it a law by July. During all this meantime I suppose the flood of foreign importations will continue to a greater or less extent, as many of the importers had ordered goods prior to April 1, and will continue to bring them in. This is especially true with reference to wool, which is imported in great quantities at this season of the year.

"These facts," continued Mr. Dingley, in conclusion, "ought to show to people who stop to consider them the impossiwho stop to consider them the impossibility of business improvement so far as relates to increased activity in manufacturing and its inflex influences upon other lines of business until the new measure is not only upon the statute books but has time to make itself felt and time is given for the absorption of the enormous quantity of foreign goods now being forced upon the market. The lieve that people will see prosperity when it has had time to produce its natural effect, but it is not reasonable to assume that it could accomplish these results in advance of its existence as a law, or even in the first few weeks or months of its operations."

Picked Up on Wood Sirest by Our Representative.

Our readers who have been entrapped into reading an innocent looking piece of newspaper composition that turned out to be an introduction to some proprietary medicine advertisement always stops the perusal of it when they discover the swindle, some with impatience some mentally vowing they will never be fooled again. Other readers who are honestly searching for a remedy advertised through the columes of their favorite paper, drop onto one, and invariably the first question asked is can it be depended upon? Following the first question comes a more important one. Why don't they publish local testimony instead of forever asking us to believe statements of some one tant one. Why don't they publish local testimony instead of forever saking us to believe statements of some one whom we are not even sure existe? Carefully read the following and see if it does not fill the bill. Take a car and jump off at No. 4110 Wood street, and ask Mrs. William Slater why she endorses Doan's Kidney Pills. At the same time see if she will not corroborate what follows: "About a year ago says she" I met with an accident getting a severe fall when stepping off a street car. It is to that I attribute all the trouble I have since had with my kidneys. I have suffered with a constant aching and soreness across iny back and weakness so that the slightest Jar would cause twinges of pain and at times I could scarcely get up or down. Along with it there was a urinary weakness sind heavy bearing down pains in the bindder. When I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Logan Drug Co. I was so used up that I could scarcely get around. I began taking them and felt relieved almost at once. I continued their use and now feel well and hearty like my old self. I can honestly recommend Dean's Kidney Pills to others knowing them to be all that they are represented to be."
